MISS BROWN.

REPORT FOR 1891.

THE Directors of the Boston Training School for Nurses desire to present their Eighteenth Annual Report to their friends and the public. There are now in the Hospital 12 resident head nurses and 60 pupils.

The School has graduated, since Jan. 1, 1891, 31 nurses. 30 probationers have been accepted, and 13 rejected.

The work in the out-patient department of the Hospital having largely increased, another nurse has been asked for and assigned to that department.

We think it well to repeat that every nurse who has fulfilled her two years' work in the Hospital and passed satisfactory examinations receives a diploma, which should always be asked for, and shown if any question regarding her standing should arise. The training, as usual, consists of work in the wards by the bedside of patients, the daily classes by the superintendent, lectures by the prominent surgeons and physicians connected with the Hospital, and examinations conducted by them.

We gratefully acknowledge our appreciation of the advantages to the nurses of their daily intercourse with and instruction from the Hospital Staff and House Officers.

In Miss Brown we have an efficient superintendent, whose influence is felt by all who come in contact with her.

As each year death removes some friends and subscribers, we feel the necessity of appealing to the public for additional support and increased subscriptions. The increasing demand for trained nurses, both from individuals and institutions, shows how much the public is benefited by the Training School. Our expenses are not large, but a certain amount of money is needed for salaries to Superintendent and Night Superintendent, and for instruction to nurses.

A disjointed skeleton for the study of bones would be very useful ; also a mannequin, which can be taken apart, showing the various organs of the body, would be an invaluable addition. These are to be found in some of the training schools, and we wish that the Boston Training School could be as well equipped as any other in the country. We should be very happy if some kind friend would provide the means of procuring what must necessarily be expensive accessories.

BOSTON TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

ATTACHED TO THE

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL IN BOSTON.

The Directors of the Boston Training School for Nurses have made arrangements with the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital for giving a two years' training to women desirous of becoming professional nurses.

Persons wishing to receive this course of instruction must apply to the Superintendent of the Boston Training School, Massachusetts General Hospital, Blossom Street, Boston.

The most desirable age for Candidates is from twenty-five to thirty-five years. They must be in good health, and must refer to some responsible person as to their moral character. After approval by the Superintendent of the School and the Resident Physician of the Hospital, they are received for one month on probation. During this month they are boarded and lodged at the Hospital, but receive no compensation.

They are under the authority of the Resident Physician and the Superintendent, and are subject to the Rules of the School and of the Hospital. Their fitness for the work, and the propriety of retaining or dismissing them at the end of the month of trial, are determined by the Resident Physician and the Superintendent and Directors of the School; and the same authorities can also discharge them at any time during their connection with the School, in case of misconduct or inefficiency. They reside in the Hospital, and serve as assistant nurses in the wards. When on service, they are required to wear the Hospital uniform.

TRAINING.

Those fulfilling the conditions of the probationary month are accepted as pupils. They must sign a written agreement to remain at the School for two years (including the probationary month) and to conform to its rules.

The instruction includes : —

1. The dressing of burns, sores, and wounds ; the preparation and application of fomentations, poultices, cups, leeches, and of minor dressings.
2. The administration of enemata, the use of the catheter, and the giving of baths.
3. The principles of massage, with practical exercises.
4. The care of the patient's room ; the making of beds ; the principles of ventilation, and their practical application.
5. The management and care of helpless patients ; the prevention and treatment of bed-sores.
6. The manufacture of bandages ; the application of bandages and splints.
7. Emergencies and their treatment.
8. The preparation, cooking, and serving of food ; the use of stimulants.

They are also taught how to observe accurately the secretions, expectorations, pulse, skin, appetite, temperature, sleep, eruptions, and the effect of diet, stimulants, and medicine. They are also instructed with regard to the management of convalescents. The instruction is given mainly by the Superintendent and by the Head Nurses. Lectures, recitations, and demonstrations, by members of the Hospital Staff, also take place at stated periods.

Examinations, conducted by a Board of Medical Examiners, are held quarterly.

The pupils are employed as assistant nurses in the wards of the Hospital, receive ten dollars ($10) a month (after the probationary month) during the first year, and fourteen dollars ($14) a month during the second year, for their personal expenses. Their education during this time is considered a full equivalent for their services. During both years of the course they board and lodge at the Hospital. Their washing is also done at the expense of the Hospital. Pupils are required to come prepared to pay for their uniform at the close of the probationary month. The expense of the uniform will not exceed twelve dollars.

When the full term of two years is satisfactorily completed, a diploma is given certifying to their period of training, their proficiency and moral character. The Training School provides a badge to which graduates are entitled on the payment of $7.00.

The Directors reserve the right to terminate the connection of a pupil with the School for any reason which they may deem sufficient.

A graduate of this School, who desires to acquire a special proficiency in the care of cases of nervous and mental diseases, has the privilege, under certain restrictions, of entering the McLean Asylum Training School for Nurses. Such graduates will, after one year's satisfactory study, receive the diploma from that School, in addition to the diploma received from the Boston Training School.
